

McClellan Defeat Urged by Hoffa's Purge List

Final Day for Cotton Control Plan Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's cotton farmers have just one more day in which to take advantage of a provision of the 1960 cotton control program allowing them to overplant federal allotments 40 per cent.

The closing date for notifying local agricultural adjustment and conservation offices of a desire to choose what is called the choice B plan is at the close of business tomorrow.

Growers electing to overplant by this amount are eligible for price support loans at 60 per cent of the parity price of cotton, or an average of 23.18 cents a pound on the basis of 7-8 inch middling cotton.

Those electing to stick to their allotments will be eligible for support at 75 per cent of parity or an average of 28.97 cents for the same base grade. This is called choice A plan.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to prices charged them.

Through March 4, 29,663 of the 951,376 farms assigned 1960 cotton allotments had elected the choice B plan. They increased their allotments from 1,402,448 to 1,963,415 acres, an increase of 560,967 acres. This brought the total allotment for the crop to 16,870,967 acres as of that date.

Under a similar choice program last year, 68,559 farms elected the choice B plan to increase their allotments from 2,558,827 to 3,582,356 acres.

Officials expect the final sign-up to show a larger allotment for the choice B plan this year than last.

This dual plan is designed to give farmers who wish it a chance to increase their production if they are willing to accept a lower price. The choice B support price farms the basis for domestic and export market prices. Officials say the plan has contributed heavily to exports of cotton from the 1959 crop.

Meet Called to Discuss Pea Planting

There will be a meeting of farmers interested in growing Monarch Bokerpeas at 10 a.m. Thursday, March 17 in the upstairs courtroom of the Hope City Hall, according to an announcement by County Agent Calvin Caldwell.

The Arkansas Frozen Food Co. of Little Rock will again buy the peas produced by Hempstead County Growers. The company has said that at least 200 acres are needed and that they will buy all the peas that growers of this county will produce. Representatives of the company will attend the meeting and explain the contract for growing peas.

Last year farmers of this county produced over 100 tons of peas and sold them for $70 per ton, the agent said.

Final Day for Cotton Control Plan Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Herald-Tribune says Teamster head James Hoffa has called for the ouster of Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) in a confidential purge memorandum.

The Tribune, in a Washington story by Earl Mazo, also said Hoffa wants to see Arkansas Supreme Court Justice Jim Johnson oppose McClellan for the Senate.

Another facet in the memorandum is a plan to oppose Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) in his bid for re-election, the Tribune said. Hoffa is a bitter foe of McClellan, who heads the Senate Rackets Committee.

At a news conference last night, Hoffa denied he has a purge list. The Tribune story also quoted the memorandum as supporting Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark.) for re-election to Congress on the same ticket with Johnson.

McClellan had no comment on the report. Johnson and Alford express surprise.

Both McClellan and Alford come up for re-election this year.

"This is a shock to me," Johnson said at Little Rock. "I've been encouraged to run against Mr. McClellan, but I haven't had much chance to give this serious thought because of the pressure of work on the bench."

Alford said it was his "first knowledge that Mr. Hoffa was supporting a segregationist or states rights."

He said any support from Hoffa was "unintentional."

Johnson and Alford are staunch segregationists. The former campaigned for Arkansas governor in 1956 on a segregationist platform and was defeated by Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Alford unseated former Arkansas Congressman Brooks Hays in the 1956 general election, having his last-minute campaign on a charge that Hays was too moderate on racial matters.

The Tribune said Hoffa's memorandum also called for the defeat of Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass.) in his bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

It was reported that the memorandum said the issue in Arkansas' upcoming elections for the seats of McClellan and Alford would not be integration versus segregation, "but the support of a friendly labor movement versus restrictive labor legislation."

The memorandum reportedly mentioned two possible contenders for Alford's seat: State Sen. Guy Jones of Conway and former Atty. Gen. Tom Gentry of Little Rock.

Jones and Gentry said last night they had no plans to run.

The Tribune story didn't indicate why Hoffa opposes Kefauver, who is regarded as one of the more pro-labor Southern senators.

FACTS ASTOUND CLUB ON HOME ACCIDENTS

Home accidents were discussed by Orville Kraus of the State Health Department, at a meeting at Spring Hill Methodist Church. The conference was sponsored by the Good Neighbors Club of Spring Hill in cooperation with the school and the PTA.

A large crowd was told that an estimated 60 per cent of the home fires were due to faulty wiring. Mr. Kraus emphasized that practically all these fires could be eliminated by an occasional inspection. He astonished his audience with facts and figures in connection with home accidents.

Freedom for Germany, Leader Asks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer agreed today that any new agreement on West Berlin's future must preserve the freedom of the people and give them the right of self-determination.

The two leaders, after a White House conference of nearly two hours, also pledged anew to continue effort to unify all Germany in peace and freedom.

The 84-year-old German leader, a satisfied smile on his face, said he was convinced that the Western allies intend to stand firm in West Berlin despite Soviet pressure.

A joint statement, issued by the White House a few moments after Adenauer left, contained this key paragraph:

"The President and the Chancellor reaffirmed their determination to continue their efforts to achieve the reunification of Germany further agreed that the preservation in peace and freedom. They also agreed that the people of West Berlin, and their right of self-determination, must underlie any future agreement affecting the city."

"I'm highly satisfied," Adenauer said as he strolled out of Eisenhower's office accompanied by Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano.

Hope Ebbs for Rescue of 18 Trapped Miners

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP) — Rescuers speculated today that 18 trapped miners, despairing of hope, made a suicidal attempt to save themselves by fleeing through a portion of the mine which had been worked out and abandoned long ago.

Crews probed three areas where the miners might have taken refuge and found them empty.

Several dinner pails found in the first two areas bore mute testimony that the men, entombed by fire and rock slides one week ago today, had been there and apparently had gone deeper into the mine.

Whether they did so to escape possible death by smoke and fumes, or in an attempt to find their way out through what is known as the old Elk Creek slope, rescuers could only hazard a guess.

"Frankly, if they're up toward the slope, they're dead," said Paul Lingo, deputy state mines director.

In coal mining, the vein is "honeycombed" — worked out room by room. Some "stumps" of coal are left untouched, and these, with timbers, support the roof.

As the timbers rot, the roof falls and the worked-out section is littered and virtually impassable. Lacking ventilation, such an area can become a death trap.

But it may have been through such a heading that the trapped men desperately tried to save themselves. If so, it could be that some of their bodies may never be recovered, as the least disturbances in these areas may cause roof falls.

The 18 were cut off about 8 a.m. last Tuesday when a small rock slide snapped an electric cable that ignited some timbers. The timbers in turn started a smoldering fire in the coal.

Communication was maintained with the miners' for about four hours until that line, too, was broken, apparently burned through by the fire.

There are three honeycombed refuge areas, or "rooms," off the main passageway where the men might have barricaded themselves from the deadly fumes and smoke from the fire.

An alternative would have been to try to make it through the main passageway to an old mine entrance on the other side of the mountain. This way has been blocked for some time, and safety officials consider it the worst choice the men could have made.

The rescue team sent out to reach the third area—100 feet deeper in the mine—was told to check the barricade at its entrance for signs of the men but not to break any seal which might be protecting the trapped men from deadly fumes.

Employment in February Is at a Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Employment rose in February to 64,520,000, a record for the month. Unemployment took an unusual drop of 218,000.

Announcing the figures today, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said they indicate continued improvement in the economic situation.

February employment was up 500,000 from January and was about 1,800,000 above February of last year.

This February's total employment was about 1,300,000 higher than the old February job record reached in 1957.

Unemployment, which usually increases in February, was 800,000 below February of last year.

The seasonally adjusted ratio of unemployment to the total work force moved down to 4.8 per cent in February from 5.2 per cent in January. It was the lowest such ratio since October, 1957.

Seymour Wolfstein, deputy assistant secretary of labor, said he feels definitely that the job picture is steadily brightening and reflects continued improvement in the economic situation generally.

Wolfstein predicted still more job improvements in the next few months. He said this is due to happen on a seasonal basis, with the advent of warmer weather, and does not depend on further general economic gains.

3 Robbers Sought in Mail Slayings

CHICAGO (AP)—The FBI and police hunted today for three mail thieves who shot and killed two post office inspectors in their car minutes after they trapped the robbers.

A half-dozen shots were fired into the bodies of the two inspectors by the three robbers, all Negroes, who fled after the shooting late Monday night on the southwest edge of the Loop.

The inspectors had seized the trio and several sacks of mail from their car and were about to drive them to a police station when the shooting broke out.

The inspectors apparently overlooked guns the robbers had concealed and they had no chance to return the fire. Both men were armed with .38 caliber service revolvers but neither gun was fired.

The victims were Ben Spizziri, 42, father of five young children, and John McAniff Jr., 36, father of two. McAniff, who was in the driver's seat, was shot in the right chest and shoulder. Spizziri was killed by shots in the right jaw and head. Police recovered one .32 caliber bullet from Spizziri's body.

Police said Winton Murray, 26, a truck driver whose car was halted at a traffic signal at the Roosevelt Road-Clark St. intersection, saw the slayings and described the scene.

He said the inspectors stopped three Negroes in a car and drove with them to a second car parked nearby. One of the two inspectors removed several bags of mail from the trunk of the robbers' car. Seconds after he stepped into the car with the robbers and the the United Nations in New York last September, is total disarmament in four years.

The Western plan contains no time limit. Referring to it, Zorin said:

"Our first impression is that these proposals do not contain the necessary real measures for carrying out of general and complete disarmament, and the approach itself to this problem puts in question its practical solution."

Eaton stressed that arrangements to cut back forces and weapons must be subject to fool-proof controls. He added that "the initial steps must not be overly ambitious."

Both Eaton and British Minister of State David Ormsby-Core stressed that the control problem would need to be carefully worked out. The American delegation leader said:

"It has been said that there must be no inspection without commensurate disarmament. Conversely, the security of the world requires that there be no disarmament without commensurate inspection. We must patiently find our way through this difficulty."

international disarmament organization with ultimate power to enforce disarmament. The rival Eastern plan is based on Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's disarmament. All nations would call for total disarmament within four years. He first unveiled it in a speech to the U.N. General Assembly last Sept. 18.

The conference likely will set up several study groups and committees of experts which may deliberate for months or even years. U.S. negotiators were told to expect to stay in Geneva at least a year. But a Soviet commentator in Moscow called for speedy action.

For the first time in more than a decade of arms talks, East and West were meeting on an equal numerical basis. On the Western side were the United States, Britain, France, Italy and Canada. Representing the Communist bloc were the Soviet Union, Poland, Romania, Czechoslovakia and Bulgaria.

Previous disarmament talks were carried on mostly by the United States, Britain, France, Canada and the Soviet Union.

The Western plan was submitted to the Communists informally Monday night. Like previous Western proposals, it called for tightly controlled, step-by-step disarmament. Its chief new features were the international organization which ultimately would have vast powers, an earlier start toward nuclear disarmament, and emphasis on the use of outer space for peaceful purposes only.

A's May Have Five Starters From Yanks

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The shuttle system operating between Kansas City and New York — for use by baseball players only — may have dropped off five front-liners who'll be in the Athletics' starting lineup when Bob Elliott makes his managerial debut in the majors.

The A's, berated by many for their numerous transactions with New York, could open the 1960 campaign with Bob Cerv, Hank Bauer and Norm Siebern in the outfield. Jerry Lammie at shortstop and Marv Throneberry at first base.

Elliott also has two starting pitchers—Johnny Kneeks and Dan Larsen—either of whom might wind up with the opening day mound assignment.

Kneeks was the pitching star and Lammie and Siebern the batting heroes Monday as the A's defeated the Milwaukee Braves 7-5 in an exhibition game.

Kneeks pitched three scoreless innings and received credit for the victory when Lammie and Siebern cracked homers in the third inning for a decisive 4-0 lead.

The American League champion Chicago White Sox and the Baltimore Orioles run their records to 3-0. The Sox defeated St. Louis 4-1 while the Birds kept Cincinnati winless 9-4.

In other spring tests, Washington whipped Los Angeles 7-1, Detroit beat the Yankees 4-2 and Philadelphia took Pittsburgh 4-1.

Quarterfinals in NIT Tournament to Start

NEW YORK (AP)—Top-seeded Brooklyn plays Lynchburg and defending champion St. John's takes on even tougher St. Bonaventure tonight in the last quarterfinal competition of the National Invitation Tournament at Madison Square Garden.

Bradley (22-2) is a five-point favorite over the Flyers, who easily handled Temple 72-61 in a first round game. St. Bonaventure (20-2) is given a one-point nod over the Redmen (17-7) after eliminating Holy Cross 94-81 for its 15th consecutive victory in a first round contest.

Dayton's (21-6) chief worry appears to be Bradley's ever-changing offense and defense.

"We never do the same thing twice," Braves coach Chuck Owsen admitted. The Braves, who lost to St. John's 75-71 in overtime for last year's title, are noted for using two or three types of offense or defense all with variations almost as a matter of course.

Dustin coach Tom Blackburn has built regard for the Braves.

"After all, they've beaten the Big O Oscar Robertson and Cincinnati 69-61 in our section of the country at Madison Square Garden," he said.

Figures Bob Friend for a Comeback

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Figure Bob Friend for the comeback of the year in the National League. The big right-hander who lost 19 and won only 8 last season for Pittsburgh thinks he's got a shot at becoming a 20-game winner again with the Pirates.

"Everybody feels good in the spring, but I can't remember ever feeling as good as all this," said Friend, who led the league in defeats after sharing the lead in victories with 22 the year before. "I've got a shot at winning 20—this club is good enough for me to win that many."

The obvious difference so far about Friend is his weight. He reported about 15 or 20 pounds lighter than last spring, when he checked in at 214.

"My best weight is about 190 or 195," he said, "and I had a harder time getting rid of that extra weight last year. I wasn't worried about it at first because I never had trouble losing before, but when I finally did lose it, I lost it too quickly and I was weak. I just didn't have any stuff."

"I guess maybe it's just that I was a year older," said Friend, now 27, "and I have to watch my weight more. That's what I did this winter."

Comes in 2nd But Prize Is the Same

LAND'S END, England (AP)—A plucky, 31-year-old housewife limped into Land's End today more than eight hours behind champion walker Wendy Lewis but she got just as much prize money for the 891-mile race.

Instead of 500 pounds—$1,400—offered for second place in the mass trek for women down the length of Britain, sponsor Billy Butlin handed Mrs. Beryl Randle of Walsall a check for twice that sum.

"I decided to give her a prize bonus of 500 pounds because I admire her courage," said Butlin.

Mrs. Randle had led up to the last 40 miles of the grueling hike from John O'Groats at the northern tip of Scotland.

Wendy, a pretty, 19-year-old Liverpool hairdresser, staggered in 8 hours and 8 minutes earlier to the cheers of thousands who lined the sidewalks to welcome her.

Despite badly swollen legs, she averaged 5 miles an hour and completed the hike in just over 17 days. This slashed four days off the time recorded last month by Dr. Barbara Moore, the 56-year-old vegetarian.

In the men's division of the race, Jimmy Musgrave, a 38-year-old Yorkshireman, jogged in first Monday after covering the distance in 15 days 14 hours 32 minutes.

Famous Beer Team Bowls Tonight

TOLEDO, Ohio, (AP)—Another big-name bowling team, Budweiser Beer of St. Louis, takes to the alleys tonight in the American Bowling Congress tourney which Monday night saw the defending champions fade away.

The Detroit Piffers who set an all time record in winning last year's 56th ABC competition with 9243, lallied 2930 pins Monday night on games of 984, 922 and 1024. That effort, led by Capt. Ed Lubanski's 610, gives the Piffers a temporary hold on seventh place in the open team division.

The St. Louis Budweisers were third last year and fourth the year before.

Unknown Fighter Breaks Moore's Jaw

CARACAS, Venezuela, (AP)—A little known Venezuelan fighter broke world featherweight champion Davey Moore's jaw and forced the Springfield, Ohio, scrapper to leave the ring in the seventh round of a scheduled 10-round non title bout Monday night.

Young Carlos Hernandez rocked Moore with a hard right in the third round and sent him down for a six count. Moore clinched and waited for the bell.

It appeared it was the third round blow that fractured Moore's jaw. After the fight, his jaw was placed in a cast.

Moore weighed 127½, Hernandez, 130.

Ford Takes Over FCC Commission

WASHINGTON (AP)—Frederick W. Ford takes over today as chairman of the Federal Communications Commission and promptly gives Congress his views on how to protect government agencies from improper influence.

The new FCC chairman was called as the first witness at House hearings on legislation, aimed at outlawing backdoor influencing of government regulatory agencies.

Among other things, the legislation would impose a far-reaching code of ethics on the big six of the regulatory agencies—the FCC, the Federal Trade Commission, the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Civil Aeronautics Board, the Federal Power Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Ford, 51, a member of the FCC since 1957, was elevated to the chairmanship by President Eisenhower when John C. Duerfer resigned under fire last week after vacationing on the yacht of a broadcasting magnate.

Chore Boys Defeat Fort Sill Team

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Little Rock's Chore Boys, an independent basketball team whose lineup reads like an Arkansas college all-star team, defeated Ft. Sill, Okla., last night 113-95 in the Region 7 AAU playoff.

The Little Rock team won the right to represent the district in the national tournament, which begins Monday at Denver.

Wesley Meckel of Ft. Sill, a 6-11 former Central Ohio State College but the real determining force in star, led scoring with 30 points in the game was Little Rock's Tom Day.

Day, a former University of Arkansas sparkplug, scored 26 points and swayed the game with his rebounding.

Ray Scott, a former Arkansas State center, scored 24 points for Little Rock and John Robinson of Arkansas State Teachers College, who led the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference in scoring this year, hit 20 points.

Dean Scroggins of Ouachita College scored 19 and Joe Dickson, who played on the same Razorback team with Day, scored 13.

Court Delays Dollarway Appeal Case

DOLLARWAY — BJT
ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Eighth U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday denied a motion to expedite its hearing on the appeal of three Negro school children from a ruling barring their transfer to all-white Dollarway School near Pine Bluff, Ark.

Judges Harvey Johnson and M. C. Mathies of the appellate court, who heard arguments on the motion, gave no reason for the denial.

The motion to advance the case, which normally would not be heard before next fall, was opposed by two attorneys for the school board.

The appeal is by Earnestine Dove, 17, and James Edward Ward and Carliss Smith, each 16.

Federal District Judge J. Smith Henley ordered the Dollarway District Feb. 19 to come up with a positive plan of racial integration within 30 days. At the same time Judge Henley ruled the three Negro pupils who started the legal test could not transfer to the all-white school this term.

The Negroes could appeal yesterday's ruling to the U.S. Supreme Court, but the fall term of the court probably would be in session before the high court could review the case.

Arguments in AP&L Rate Hike Appeal
LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Opposing attorneys will submit memoranda to the Arkansas Public Service Commission Monday on whether Arkansas Power & Light Co. should be allowed to increase rates to rural electric co-operatives temporarily.

The increase would be in effect pending outcome of negotiations on permanent rates.

AP&L argued at a PSC hearing yesterday that it should be allowed to institute the increase, but the co-ops objected, saying this would hinder negotiations on new rates and contracts.

PSC chairman Lewis Robinson said the commission would hold hearings later on the merits of the proposed rate increase if the power company and the co-ops don't settle it by negotiations first.

AP&L wants to increase rates on electric power it sells wholesale to the co-ops by between 6.67 and 9.4 mills. The fourteen co-ops, who retail the power to their members oppose the increase.

Our Public Employees

Editor, The Star: We should like, personally, to offer a word of praise to our city-wide employees who so efficiently and untiringly worked to restore order and service during our recent ice storm. The word gets around and one prominent businessman whom I know personally, provided a steak dinner to one group who snatched a sandwich and coffee when possible in order that the work might go on.

Our city manager, Garland Medders, personally managed the new communications system to on-the-job employees while the secretary Miss JoJo Owens, received the call. This expedited the repair work as well as the Fire Department which used the hook and ladder equipment to release emergency pressure on wires. The fact that service was restored and maintained without injury is also to be commended.

Last, but not least, we appreciate our paper boys who never missed delivery on a single issue; Jackie Hearst of the Hope Star and Carol Lee Keith of the Arkansas Gazette. The mailman who never complained and is always available, as well as the milkman.

Again, our thanks. Sincerely yours,

CHAPTER XX

Bokker said coolly, "I just stopped in to ask if you knew of a small office that I might rent."

Wilkins shrugged. "Yes, Mr. Bokker, I know just the place—Simon Maxwell's got a room next to his barbershop that he wants to rent. Right across from the jail. Make it handy for you. Be near your customers."

"Thank you," said Bokker and left the hotel.

He found Maxwell shaving a customer. "Sure," he said, "I got a room to rent. Here's the key, take a look at it. Right next door."

Bokker took the key and went next door. It was an unpainted addition, more of a lean-to affair, attached to the barbershop. The front window had four panes, three of which were broken. Bokker unlocked the squeaking door and found himself in a room some 10 by 10 feet in size. A partition shut off a tiny room at the rear.

He returned to the barber. "How much?"

"Twenty dollars a month, on a six-month lease."

"Lease? What's a lease?"

"An agreement that you'll let me have the place for that long a period."

"Oh, you can have it, all right. That is, as long as you pay your rent."

"If I don't, you can evict me. Have you got a sheet of paper?"

The barber rummaged around and found paper and a pen. Bokker wrote out a brief form. He read it, when Bokker handed it to him.

"Sounds just like a lawyer wrote it."

"I am a lawyer."

"Huh? The dickens you say?"

"If you'll sign, Mr. Maxwell, I'll pay you your first month's rent."

The barber signed the lease and Bokker handed him the first month's rent. The barber then showed some concern.

"I hope I done the right thing," he said. "I been shavin' Mr. Mike Huntley three times a week for the past six months."

"I'll let you shave me every day,"

The barber brightened.

In The St. Louis General Store, Bokker bought a small cot, a washstand, pitcher and bowl and two chairs. He asked about a desk, but finding they had none, settled for a kitchen table. He had the stuff delivered to his new office, then sought out a sign painter and a man to install new glass in the windows.

Toward Noon Bokker was straightening out his office, while the sign painter was lettering on his newly installed windows: Philip Bokker, Lawyer.

A fleshy, red-faced man, wearing a rusty Prince Albert and a black felt hat, stepped into the office.

"I'm your competitor," he said. Bokker started to hold out his hand, saw that Huntley had no intentions of extending his own. "How are you, Mr. Huntley?" he said quietly.

"How long do you think you can hold out?" Huntley asked unpleasantly.

"Quite a while," retorted Bokker.

"You'll be leavin' before the month's out."

"Don't count on it."

"Want to bet?"

"No. I sit in on a sociable poker game once in a while, but that's the only gambling I do. Same for drinking."

"So it's going to be like that, eh?" snapped Huntley.

"It's going to be whatever you want to make it, Huntley."

Chet Huntley made no attempt to conceal his distaste.

"All right, Bokker, I tried to warn you. Don't say I didn't."

"You did!"

Huntley stamped out of the little office.

The sign painter came in, grinning. "That's 50 cents, Mr. Bokker."

"Thanks: here's your money. It's a good job."

The man took the money.

"Our prosecutor don't like competition," the man continued. "Couldn't help hearing him."

"I'm sorry he feels that way."

"Oh, don't let it worry you. Well, not too much. Huntley's in with the mayor and his crowd, but

Prosecutor Wants Facts About Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Finch case jury room may have been as full of sound and fury as the courtroom, according to reports reaching Dist. Atty. William B. McKesson.

McKesson, prompted by tales told by two jurors, wants to find out just what happened behind the locked door as the jury argued itself into a bitter deadlock.

His office Monday launched an investigation of reports of near-violent feuding and intimidation during the panel's eight days of fruitless deliberations.

McKesson said he was specifically interested in the report that one male juror threatened to throw a woman juror out of a second-story window.

Regardless of what the probe reveals, one thing is certain. It won't affect the outcome of Finch-Tregoff trial No. 1.

The state is now pressing for an immediate second trial for Dr. R. Bernard Finch and his mistress, Carole Tregoff, who are accused of slaying Finch's wife last July 10. A new date will be set Thursday.

Either Way Works His Television

BAY SHORE, N.Y. (AP) — When hospital patient Edward McBride wants to switch television programs, he can press his remote control gadget—or squeeze a can of air deodorant. Either one does the job.

McBride was perfectly happy with the show on his remote control TV set Monday. He just wanted to freshen up his hospital room a bit. So he squirted the air deodorant can. Presto, a new TV channel flicked on.

With each squirt, he found, a new channel popped up. The cap worked on ten other TV sets in the hospital and failed on five. Other push-button cans did nothing except what they were supposed to do.

A TV specialist explained that through some fluke the deodorant can had created an ultra-high frequency sound wave that triggered the channel-changing mechanism in the sets.

Four Die in Crash

MODENA, Italy (AP) — Four people were killed when a truck crashed through a lowered railroad crossing barrier near Fossolo, northern Italy, Monday night, hitting the diesel engine of a passing train.

Rain Threatens Area

PREJUS, France (AP) — Heavy rains today threatened the Rayran River valley, where more than 400 persons perished three months ago in the Maupasset Dam disaster.

Prejus, at the southern end of the valley, was altered as the river rose, but officials said there was no immediate danger.

Judge Paisley ain't payin' much attention to Huntley. He's a pretty square man."

Bokker nodded in satisfaction. "A lawyer can't ask for more than an honest judge."

He left the office and had lunch at the restaurant. Returning to his office, he was hailed by the barber.

"Mr. Bokker," the barber said unhappily, "I made a mistake. I shouldn't have rented you the place."

"Why not?"

"Well, business is good and I been thinkin' I might have to tear down the wall between the two places and put in another chair."

"You can do that," Bokker said, "in six months when my lease expires."

The barber winced. "Is that what that paper was for I — I can't make you move."

"That's right. Of course, if you want to go to court —"

"No, no. I don't want to go into any court," the barber said hastily. "Uh — what if I gave you your $20 back and — and $10 to boot."

"No," said Bokker. "I rented your place in good faith and I'm going to keep it. Tell Mr. Huntley that. will you?"

"Huntley? What's Huntley got to do with this?"

"Isn't he the one who changed your mind?"

The barber's forehead creased in worry. "No-no," he said. Then he turned back into his shop.

Hoffa Hurls Criticism at Everybody

NEW YORK (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa hurled criticism at most of his adversaries Monday night at a Madison Square Garden rally.

An estimated 8,000 cheering Teamsters and members of their families half-filled the arena.

The Teamsters president had angry words for recent labor legislation, Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), his brother, "Little Bobby Kennedy," AFL-CIO President George Meany, Auto Workers President Walter Reuther, the press, radio, and television.

Sen. Kennedy, who helped write the new labor law, was a member of the Senate committee which investigated union and management rackets. His brother, Robert F. Kennedy, was chief counsel of the committee.

His audience enthusiastically whistled and cheered as Hoffa turned to reporters covering the rally and said: "There is no use talking to reporters. Distortion is what you can expect from the press. Editors are controlled by big business."

Boy Admits Killing Mother of Friend

VICTORVILLE, Calif. (AP) — A 17-year-old boy has admitted he killed the mother of one of his friends with an iron rod, authorities say, because he was jealous of her family's prosperity.

A homicide officer said young David Marx of nearby Apple Valley will be booked as an adult for investigation of murder in the death of Gladys Hodge, 47. She was beaten Friday night and died Sunday.

Sheriff's Lt. Barton A. Keene said David was a school chum of one of Mrs. Hodge's sons and he often used the swimming pool at the Hodge home. David is the son of a cleaning plant employee.

Keene said David expressed envy because the Hodges had many things his family couldn't afford.

Goal Should Be Building, Kennedy Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said today a boom in public and private construction should be the No. 1 goal of the next president of the United States.

Kennedy, who hopes to be the next president, said that under the present administration's "tight-money policies" construction is declining rather than increasing rapidly to meet the expanding needs of the exploding American population.

Kennedy said that a man purchasing a $20,000 home at current interest rates will wind up at the end of a 30-year mortgage having paid a total of $43,000 for the home. He said this was about $9,000 more than the cost under interest rates a few years ago.

Kennedy spoke at the national legislative conference of the Building and Construction Trades Department, AFL-CIO. The delegates gave him a rousing reception.

Kennedy said President Eisenhower's administration has a do-nothing policy. He said this is reflected in a growing shortage of homes, schools and airports throughout the country.

Kennedy said that at the present rate of urban renewal that it would take over a century to get rid of the nation's slums. He called for lower interest rates and government aid to expand private and public construction activities. Kennedy also said he will press for congressional action this year on legislation to boost the present $1-an-hour minimum wage to $1.25, to establish federal minimum standards for unemployment compensation benefits, and to amend the federal labor law to permit picketing of construction projects that have a number of separate contractors.

AFL-CIO President George Meany said earlier that AFL-CIO unions must end membership discrimination against Negroes. He said such practices "violate every
